Well that's exactly how I feel about Agent of Darkness, the third book in the Dark Fae FBI book. This book was pure awesomeness. The authors have ramped everything up tenfold and it was just so exciting to read that I found it incredibly difficult to book the down (FYI, don't start reading this book just before going to bed).

Agent of Darkness is the third book in C.N. Crawford's Dark Fae FBI series, and, true to its name, it's one hellavuh trip into darkness. This book has by far been my favourite book in the series (perhaps Cassandra and I share a love of dark, twisty, and complicated things, LOL) and Agent of Darkness takes the action which has been evident throughout the entire series and ramps it up a notch, or ten.

The second book in the Dark Fae FBI series carries on with as much action packed tension as the first. I loved the first book in this series and the second was just as good. I love that this is set in London as it's my home city and the authors are incredibly accurate with their descriptions of the city and the places.

Agent of Enchantment; Dark Fae FBI, Book 1 ... There isn't much that wasn't great about the last book in the dark Fae series. It stretched the span of human emotion's. I would have loved a little more intimacy between the two main characters in this conclusion but otherwise well worth the time and money.

The final book in the Dark Fae FBI series. The Fae war is coming, and I'm caught right in the middle. My father, the ruthless Unseelie king, is dead. It should have been our moment of triumph. Instead, we find ourselves hiding in London from our ancient enemies, the Seelie. From Roan's city mansion, we need to unite the six Unseelie courts to fight back. Unfortunately, centuries-old feuds make this almost impossible. To make things worse, there's no good reason for anyone to listen to us. After all, I'm just a pixie bastard. Did I mention that my dread powers are gone? If that weren't enough, I need to decide if I want to live forever in the world of the humans, or the world of the fae with Roan. Sure--he's gorgeous and loyal, but do I want to spend forever in this chaos? As the Seelie encroach on our territory, it's time to see if Roan and I--terror and love--can really change the world together.

There's a dark power growing within me. And I'm not sure I can control it. The fae king wants me dead. His assassins tracked me down and nearly killed me- now they're the ones lying lifeless in a pool of blood. But the price I've paid is too high. They hurt someone I love, and I burn for revenge. I'm done watching from the sidelines. Following the seductive fae Roan, I join the rebels but find myself surrounded by suspicion at every turn. But with the strange new magic in my blood, no one trusts me anymore. It's the magic of fear, of terror, of nightmares. The king's minions have given me another name: Mistress of Dread. My power is unstable and deadly, and to get my vengeance, I must learn to control it. Yet with fury boiling in my blood and desire for Roan kindling my heart, it seems like an impossible task. FBI Agent, Pixie, Terror Leech, Mistress of Dread. Will I become a King Killer as well?

The fae live among us. And one of them is a serial killer. I thought this would be a simple profiling case. Just another Jack-the-Ripper wannabe, prowling London's streets, searching for easy kills. I was wrong. This killer is fae, and he's as elusive as smoke on the wind. But I'm an FBI profiler, and it's my job to track him down. It doesn't matter that one of the main suspects--a lethally alluring fae--is trying to seduce me... or kill me, I'm not sure which. I won't be stopped, not even when panic roils through the streets of London, or when the police start to suspect me. As I close in on the killer, I follow him to a magical shadow realm that's like nothing I ever expected, where I'm hunted like prey. Fine. Bring it on. I'm an FBI Agent. And it turns out I have magical powers of my own.
